Mount students assemble to attend the Mass which was offered for our late president the day after his burial.

DEDICATED TO JOHN FITZGERALD KENNEDY

John Fitzgerald Kennedy, the 35th President of the United States, was and is a modern example of courage, conviction, and faith. He typified the average man — the brilliant man, the average citizen — the greatest citizen. To the youth of America he was an inspiration and a guide. He showed us how to lead our country and also how to follow its commands.

We were freshmen when he took into his hands the task of leading this nation. His wisdom and guidance protected us and allowed us to study and learn under a banner of freedom and peace. Our years at Mount were slowly ending when his life was so suddenly ended. Shocked and hurt, we realized, perhaps for the first time, how great a man he was.

To John Fitzgerald Kennedy, our fallen leader, this yearbook is dedicated.

To the ideals of John Fitzgerald Kennedy, the ideals of a hero, our lives are dedicated.

To truth, justice, and loyalty; to love of God, family, and country, we must strive to make the world dedicated.

Living Images of

His Excellency
The Most Reverend
JAMES LOUIS CONNOLLY, D.D.D.S.C.H.

His Excellency, The Most Reverend James L. Connolly, in his years of dedication to the Diocese of Fall River, has shown a constant interest in the spiritual and scholastic progress of our secondary schools. At present he is planning for another regional high school in the Diocese. This secondary school will accommodate the boys in Fall River and will be staffed by Jesuit priests. It will be the first Catholic high school for the boys of this city.

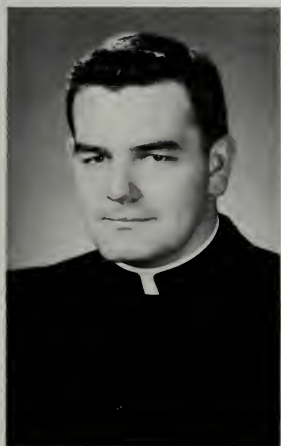

His Excellency
JAMES JOSEPH GERRARD, D.D.

As Auxiliary Bishop, Bishop Gerrard does a great work assisting in the guidance of a Diocese which is endeavoring to do its utmost in helping to form a better world. While Bishop Connolly attended the Ecumenical Council, Bishop Gerrard took the full responsibility as spiritual father and leader of the Diocese. Much of the success in the responses of the laity to the requests for the new regional high school is due to his enthusiasm and cooperation.

Holiness, Wisdom, and ...

Reverend Patrick J. O'Neill, A.M.
Superintendent of Schools

Reverend Joseph Delaney, A.M.
Assistant Superintendent of Schools

Reverend Paul F. McCarrick
Spiritual Director of the Sodality

Father O'Neill's keen interest and foresight are always at work for the interests of the schools in the diocese. Father realizes the pupils of our schools will soon take their places, either among the laity or as religious, as Catholics who must help to form a better world. In order to be adequately prepared, our students must now be educationally and spiritually trained for the task. Last school year Father O'Neill appointed committees of teachers to revise the entire curriculum. This year Father has asked that modern mathematics be taught to the junior high students, and he has provided an in-service mathematics course for the teachers.

Father Delaney shares in the responsibility and work of our large educational system. He has been a tremendous help to the committees who are revising the courses of study for our secondary schools. In all the problems and difficulties in adjusting our curriculum to the needs and demands of a modern world, Father assists the committee members by his able and understanding assistance. He realizes the need of a well integrated program which will prepare our pupils for higher education, or to take their places in the world as intelligent Catholic Americans.

Father McCarrick, because of his deep sense of spiritual values and his kind manner, is held in high esteem by all Mount students. Occasionally Father gathers the seniors together for spiritual instruction, and he is always ready to be of assistance to any girl who seeks his advice. Father is also interested in the social activities of the Mount. He realizes that in order to prepare our students for a better world we must provide for their social as well as their spiritual and intellectual life. Whenever there is a school dance or other event, Father is always there.

Mother Mary Helena, R.S.M., Ed.M.
Mother Provincial

Mother Mary Helena is always interested in the work of the faculty and the students at the Mount. In providing for a sound spiritual and educational program for us, Mother looks first to the preparation of our teachers. She knows they cannot impart to us what they themselves do not possess. To equip the Sisters for their work, she offers opportunities for spiritual and scholastic development.

Truth in the Panorama

Mother Mary Alban, R.S.M., A.M.
Assistant Mother Provincial

Mother Mary Alban plans and guides the educational preparation of our teachers. She sees that each Sister has a good background in her major field and also in any other subject she may teach. Sisters who have their Master's degree are offered occasional refresher courses.

Sister Mary Charlotte, R.S.M., A.B.
Superior

Sister Mary Charlotte is religious superior of Mount Saint Mary Convent. In her kind and gentle way she is always alert to the needs of all at the Academy. The faculty and students are grateful for all she does to make life at the Mount so pleasant.

Sister Mary Rose, R.S.M., A.M., head of the Latin department, teaches sophomore religion and freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior Latin.

Sister Mary Carmelita, R.S.M., Ed.M., head of the business department and moderator of the Debate Club, teaches senior religion, junior English, history and typing.

Sister Mary Adele, R.S.M., A.M., head of the French department and moderator of the French Club, teaches French II and III.

Sister Mary Donalda, R.S.M., M.S., R.N., head of the biology department and moderator of the Science Club, teaches biology II and advanced biology.

Sister Mary Flora, R.S.M., A.M., head of the English department and moderator of the Mercian and the Journalism Club, teaches senior religion, junior and senior English, Latin II, and German.

Sister Mary Benita, R.S.M., Cand. M.A.T., head of the math department and yearbook adviser, teaches junior religion, junior and senior math and sophomore English.

Sister Mary Albertus, R.S.M., A.M., head of the chemistry department and moderator of the Junior Sodality and the Science Club, teaches junior religion and chemistry.

Sister Mary Denisita, R.S.M., Cand. A.M., head of the religion department and Senior Sodality moderator, teaches sophomore religion and English, Spanish I and II, and general science.

Heads of departments at the Mount always try to adapt their programs to present day needs. At left the heads of the science and math departments discuss the correlation of math and science.

SOPHOMORES

Study Hall — Secretary: Haydee Santiago; Vice-President: Roslyn Rapoza; President: Maureen Turgeon; Treasurer: Jacqueline Pavao.

Room 9 — Vice-President: Jackie Vegeant; President: Jo-Ann Medeiros; Treasurer: Shirley Paquin; Secretary: Beverly Camara.

Quality and quantity distinguish our Sophomore class. Amidst them we find outstanding leadership and superior academic accomplishment. Courses in geometry, French I or Spanish I, Latin II and biology, religion and English comprise their program. Despite this rigorous schedule our Sophs are always active in extra-curricula affairs.

Room 9A — Treasurer: Carol LaRoche; Vice-President: Lynn Chrupcala; Secretary: Mary Anne Souza; President: Theresa Miranda.

Room 12 — Vice-President: Jean Martineau; President: Nancy Sayward; Secretary: Mary-Jo Trainer; Treasurer: Christine Gallant.

FRESHMEN

Room 10 — Secretary: Donna Ferreira; Vice-President: Julia Morgan; Treasurer: Joan Perry; President: Nancy Medeiros.

Room 13 — Treasurer: Gail Silvia; Vice-President: Carol Morton; President: Andrea Schnell; Secretary: Jeannine Beaudry.

To the Freshmen, high school is an entirely different world. They are, however, as busy as the upperclassmen. The Frosh build their foundation through the study of Latin I, algebra, world history, and physical science. They also take courses in religion and English.

Room 16 — Secretary: Jeanie Pavo; Treasurer: Jane Aquair; President: Elaine Fuller; Vice-President: Jacqueline Moura.

Looking forward to four years of joy, study, and companionship . . . a freshman stands in awe as she beholds the beauty of the Mount.

aghan, Veronica Plaziak, Margaret Walsh, Marcia Dean, Debra Prystac, Cynthia Neves, Kathryn Golden, Janice Stasiowski, Ann McMahon, Jean Vallee. Fourth row: Carol Bednarz, Janice Couture, Donna Potvin, Mary Leary, Patricia Selleck, Mary Lowney, Elizabeth Czerwonka, Donna Hinchcliffe, Ann Tessier.

Is it the book itself that is the cause of so much concern, or is it some treasure hidden between its pages? Perhaps one of these freshmen would give us the answer.

Freshman-senior sisters, Marsha and Charlotte Dean, Madeline and Theresa Oliveira, Kathleen and Patricia Ryan, and Mary Lou and Margaret Brady shake hands in welcome on the front lawn.

Preceding the actual ring ceremony the juniors received Holy Communion at the Mass offered in the auditorium. In this way the significance of the ring becomes spiritual and more meaningful to the girls.

Juniors, Nancy Gordon and Nancy Gregorio receive their class rings from Carolyn Cote and Sheila Sullivan as Father McCarrick looks on. The ceremony was followed by a talk by Father on the importance of the ring.

YEARS OF KNOWLEDGE

CURRICULUM

RELIGION

Emphasis at the Mount has always been placed on the spiritual life. The Academy trains its girls to become strong Catholic leaders in today's materialistic world.

Prayer and religious exercises are an essential part of every school day. Besides these, the girls take an active part in the various phases of the liturgical year. Daily Religion classes and the annual retreat complete a well-rounded spiritual education. It is the hope of all the faculty that the deep religious training given the girls will result in the spiritual strength needed to sustain them throughout their lives.

Mount students are asked to say a rosary daily as pointed out by Nancy L. Jackson and Gail Kerrigan. Early arrivers in the morning go to chapel for rosary.

It is evident from the smiling faces that the first Mother-Daughter Communion Breakfast, sponsored by the Mount Student Council, was a complete success and will be continued in future years. Last year's guest speaker was Father John P. Driscoll of SS. Peter and Paul's Parish.

All Mount girls look forward to their annual retreat in May. Father Robert Kaszynski, last year's retreat master, gave us many inspiring conferences.

Likeness of Christ

Father distributes Holy Communion to the faithful at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass. We join our hearts to God by receiving the Spiritual Banquet on the First Friday of each month.

Meditating on the mysteries of the rosary are Priscilla Barreira, Joyce Forneiro, Sharon Hurley and Dolores Arruda. Making a daily visit to the chapel is a part of the day at Mount.

For every Mount girl the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass is the highlight of her retreat day. Father Robert Kaszynski, last year's retreat master, offers a Mass facing the girls.

The beauty of the stained glass windows and the Gothic design of Mount's chapel promote prayerful meditation.

ENGLISH

Intellectual stimulation and student involvement have been characteristic of the English Team Teaching experiment. Here Sister Mary Flora and Sister Mary Mercy enjoy some humanizing laughter with the student panelists.

By no means is it all lecture in Team Teaching approach. Here English IV combined classes enjoy the histrionics of Helen Murray, Eleanor Thurston, and Madeline Plourde doing the morality play Everyman.

Senior and junior English classes have been exposed to a new-type approach in teaching procedures. This experimental method, called Team Teaching — is challenging and stimulating. Each teacher on the team instructs the combined classes in chosen areas and with other team teachers coordinates the various units. Panel and dramatizations are lively features. Sister Mary Flora and Sister Mary Mercy comprise the team during the year's experiment.

Each year Mount students are invited to Saint Mary's, Bayview, to see the plays presented by the National Players. Here we see three members from the chorus of Sophocles' Oedipus Rex.

Wilder's play, Our Town, holds a fascination for these enthusiastic sophomores. Their miniature theatre, however, has added little particulars to scenery, because their stage manager is silent.

As these sophomores discuss the "Declaration of Independence", they realize how much the words of Thomas Jefferson mean to present-day Americans. They are proud of John Kennedy who was a supreme example of dedication to these principles.

In this "group dynamics" session, a regular part of team teaching approach, five heads help chairman resolve a problem in Francis Bacon's essay "On Truth".

Kathleen Fitzgerald and Helene Auger decide on the appropriate tense of the Latin subjunctive. The Latin classes are taught by Sister Mary Rose and Sister Mary Flora.

LANGUAGES . . .

Claudette Demers explains her project to the members of the French class. Projects are often assigned in order that the girls might acquire a better understanding of the language and culture through pictures. The French classes are taught by Sister Mary Adele and Sister Mary Phyllis.

One of the purposes of the American educational system is to give students a greater knowledge and understanding of the people in foreign nations. This is done, in one way, through the study of foreign languages, four of which are offered to Mount students — French, Spanish, German, and classical Latin. The girls are not only taught grammar and conversation but also the customs and culture of the particular country. All these aspects serve to increase the student's knowledge of her chosen language.

Sister Mary Denisita checks on the progress of her students in the Spanish class.

Cheryl Faris, Ann Drury, and Paulette Whitmore, senior French students, illustrate to the class their understanding of the homework assignment.

Comme on travaille pour s'exprimer avec facilité en français! A group of French III students under the direction of Sister Mary Adele develop their linguistic ability.

Gründlichkeit ist die Hauptsache im Erlernen einer fremden Sprache! And so the German class listens carefully to recordings — especially the sound of "r" before a vowel. Aber Cheryl sagt immer "Wann können wir mal wieder Musik hören?"

Sister Mary Albertus, head of the science department, explains the different properties of the elements under examination. The results are carefully recorded by the other girls.

Mount Scientists In Action . . .

Sister Mary Donald, the head of the biology department, instructs Sandra Whelley and Margaret Mulyk in the use of one of the many radiation machines involved in advanced biology.

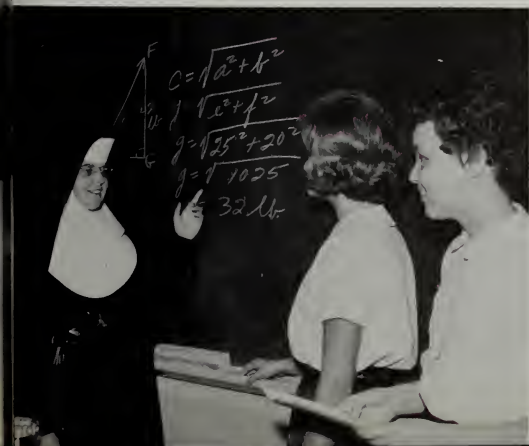

Jane Sullivan experiments in measurement along with Florence Lemaire, Sister Mary Chabanel, and Jeanne Fewks.

Mrs. Appel, our general science teacher, questions Linda Roderiques as Karen Marek eagerly looks on.

The students of the general science class are intrigued as Mrs. Appel presents a new scientific concept.

The twentieth century has experienced some of the most remarkable scientific advances in history. Our satellites and nuclear reactors, the discovery of new elements and drugs—these are affecting all our lives. The Mount, in keeping abreast of all modern developments, has provided a full science background. Excellent teachers, the finest supplies, and well-equipped laboratories all contribute in educating young women to play a decisive role in our modern world.

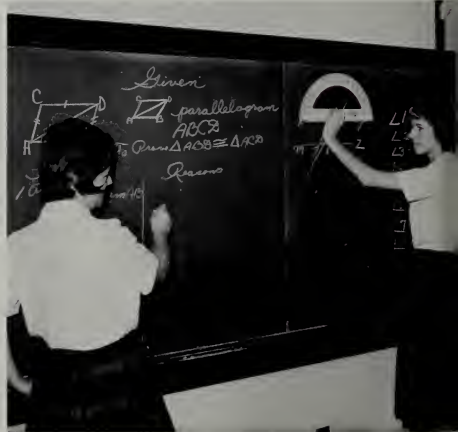

An explanation of the mathematics involved in physics is given to Elizabeth Moniz, Phyllis Desruisseaux, Rosemary Rudyk, and Kathleen Holik by Sister Mary Chabanel, head of our physics department.

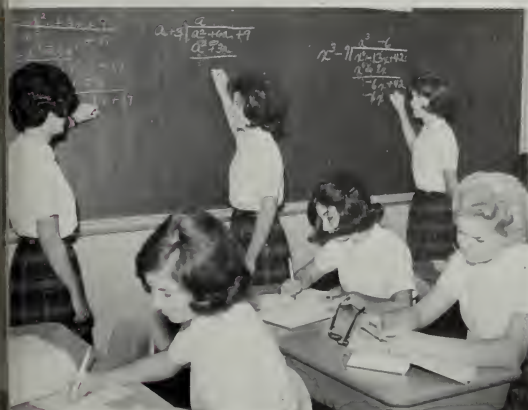

Ordered pairs, axes and vertices . . . these girls are coordinating all the elements of geometry under the watchful eye of Sister Mary Phyllis. Full concentration and extensive study are necessary skills in comprehending this type of math.

The mathematics curriculum at the Mount integrates the modern math with the traditional. This school year the mathematics committee has set up a new course of study based on the suggestions of the Commission of Mathematics. Math classes at the Mount are following this new schedule. The program offers Algebra I to the freshmen, Geometry to the sophomores, Algebra II to the juniors, and either Nurse's Math or Advanced Math to the seniors. Mount seniors enter the National Mathematics Contest each year.

Geometry can be a little perplexing at times as can be seen in the faces of these two sophomores. But with the help and patience of Sister Mary Fidelis they will soon master its techniques.

MATH

Junior Algebra II students taught by Sister Mary Benita ponder over review problems at the beginning of the year. At the board Elizabeth Nasser, Nancy Jackson and Sharon Poirier demonstrate some problems for the class.

A difficult problem in Advanced Math proves to be too much for senior Carolyn Cote. She asks the assistance of her teacher, Sister Mary Benita, who willingly explains the problems to Carolyn.

Carefully copying their geometry notes, Sister Mary Fidelis' students present a diligent picture. The girls find the course interesting and challenging.

Senior Margaret Mulyk displays her interesting science project explaining the Binary System at the school science fair. A prize winner, Margaret, proceeded to the Regional Fair to compete with various students from throughout the area.

Copying is made easier by modern methods such as this operated fluid duplicator. The seniors instructed by Sister Mary Julian will be familiar with the operation of this machine and other such machines by June. Cheryl Duckett is seen adjusting the fluid for the machine.

Juniors prepare zealously for their future — serious typing is evident — perhaps a result of the timing by Charlene Gallant. Their goal? A skillful 45 words per minute.

BUSINESS

Office Practice also means knowing "how" to find things as Barbara Arruda, Sandra Silvia and Jeanine Levesque are finding out—this consultation seems to be geared to road maps.

The various business subjects offered to the girls are a proximate preparation for their entrance into the challenging business world. As the pictures have indicated, typing, shorthand and office practice are a few of the necessary skills. With this thorough preparation Mount students become an asset to their community.

No—it's not Camelot—it's shorthand. Here a group of Seniors are taking dictation from records. Records give individual help on different levels of speed. Many of these girls develop their speed by using these records at home.

Joyce Wilbur experiments with the new Olympia as Mary Beth Hughes and Catherine Hennessey look on with apparent interest in results.

Intently watching the speed and skill of their fellow classmates, Sister Mary Carmelita's personal typing students, who are seniors, gather around the electric IBM typewriters.

HISTORY

Our late President Kennedy and his wife, Jacqueline, are the epitome of exuberance of young Americans. Their courage, stronger and bolder than that of our First Fathers, has patterned a new way of life. We can only hope to live up to their high standards.

Representatives from Miss Jaruszewski's history classes meet with her in the library to discuss issues currently affecting the United States. With the aid of Newsweek Magazine and the American Observer the girls are able to keep pace with current affairs.

... Past Pictures Relived

Helen Wilmarth and Mr. Labounty discuss a period in American History while Greta, Mr. Labounty's faithful mascot, keeps a watchful eye on the senior class.

Arlene Braga, Donna Larue, Mary Ann Urban, and Judy Perreault are viewing pictures of Fall River in connection with a study of its history.

Congress and its divisions are illustrated by Sharon Alosi as Sharon Silva looks on. These seniors are students in Sister Mary Carmelita's American History class.

History is a record of human beings. It relates the effect of their successes and failures, discoveries and advancements. World History treats the development of all nations — from their conception to their growth in the twentieth century. The study of American History encompasses all phases of economic, social, and cultural progress in the United States. In taking these two history courses, a Mount girl is trained as a potential civic leader.

Hear it! Find it! Name it! An interval or a chord? Is it major or minor? Who's doing it (and enjoying it, too)? The juniors and seniors in the music class!

Aside from the basic curriculum, the Mount offers courses in music and art which are taught not merely to enlighten but also to enrich the mind and provide the student with a cultural background.

Our yearbook artist, Madeline Plourde, is one of our more talented art students. The design on the 1964 MERCY-CREST cover is an example of her fine work.

ART and MUSIC

The art room is a busy place as Virginia Bailey, Judith Lewis, Barbara Fontes, Katherine McCarty, and Jacqueline Pavao mix paints in preparation for a class project.

... 4 Years of Cultural

LIBRARY

Sister Mary Mercy, R.S.M. and Miss Mildred Sullivan assist Elaine Cross and Mary Ann Ferry. The students enjoy the services of a librarian daily throughout the seven periods.

Students utilize the hundreds of books found in the reference alcove. Encyclopedias, dictionaries and other more specialized reference books are in use during each school day.

Whether it is for quiet study, a quick assignment or a long term research paper, the students find the hospitable atmosphere of the library able to satisfy their needs.

Every library has books, and the Mount library prides itself on possessing more than five thousand. But more than its excellent book collection, the librarians with capable and willing student assistants, endeavor to maintain an atmosphere of friendliness and service to all students. This image is exemplified by the stuffed animal collection and the intriguing knick-knacks as well as the waiting books—all of which unite to say, "Welcome".

YEARS OF PARTICIPATION

CO-CURRICULAR

Our Harvest Hop

Pumpkins, cornstalks, and autumn leaves provide the background for our annual Harvest Hop. A recent innovation in Mount's social activities, it has been enthusiastically received by all. Here the camera catches Margie Pacheco, Elaine Fitzsimmons, Margaret Mulyk, Diane Allaire, and Pat Kenney and their escorts enjoying the music of Tommy Masso.

Dancing near the shrine of the Blessed Mother, Diane Allaire enjoys her first Harvest Hop with John Raposa. The shrine symbolizes the Blessed Mother as special patroness and protectress of all phases of activity at Mount.

Each year the girls set aside an evening exclusively for their fathers. Here Marilee Janick and her dad enjoy an evening at the Father-Daughter Dance.

The girls and their dads line up for the grand finale of the evening, the grand march. The fathers particularly look forward to this part when they can display their military style.

An Evening With Dad

Present senior, Joan Medeiros, practices a new step with her escort at the Junior Prom. The orchestra, led by Tommy Masso, provides a perfect background for the entire evening.

"Some Enchanted Evening" was the theme for the Junior Prom. The decorating committee created an Oriental atmosphere in the Mount gymnasium transforming it into an exotic paradise. All the girls and their escorts had an enjoyable evening.

Janice McGrady and her escort, Robert St. Laurent, admire this attractive ornament which lends itself to the oriental theme of the Junior Prom. The Chinese gong was designed and painted by Madeline Plourde.

JUNIOR PROM

The grand march, always a highlight of the Junior Prom, was led by the junior class presidents, Judith Perreault, Joanne Bailey, Theresa Oliveira, Barbara McCann and their escorts. Immediately following they placed their bouquets at the shrine of the Blessed Mother and dedicated the dance to her.

Barbara McCann and Frances Milotte pose with their escorts as Father John Cronin looks on. The Junior Prom provided an enjoyable evening for all.

Mary Sayward points out the Prom's Geisha girl, representing the Japanese customs of design and color which transformed the gym into a paradise.

Joyce Jean and her escort dance to the relaxing tones of Tommy Masso's orchestra. The music invited endless tapping of feet and even singing for those who were still suspended on cloud nine.

Ann Purdy, Mary Ann Ramos, Patricia Gibbons, Helen Murray, Mary Ann Urban, Mary Sayward and Elizabeth Moniz are members of one of the Sodality groups discussing the influence of Catholic literature on teenagers today:

Sodality officers, Cecilia Polka, Madeleine Thibault, Carolyn Core, and Diane Martineau, meet every Tuesday to plan the program for the next week. Under the direction of Sister Mary Denisita the girls strive to understand their roles as Catholic women.

SODALITY

The Sodality, directed by Sister Mary Denisita and Sister Mary Albertus, is a fine example of the spiritual life of the students at the Mount. One of the functions of the Sodality is to teach Christian Doctrine to the students of public grammar schools. All the activities of the Sodality this year are led by the prefect, Cecilia Polka.

During October and May the Sodalists sponsor a morning rosary in the chapel in honor of the Blessed Mother. This practice is popular with the girls and is continued by many throughout the year.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

Sister Mary Phyllis, moderator of the student government, discusses the new handbook with representatives, Carolyn Cote, Sheila Sullivan, and Therea Oliveira. The book is a general guide for the rules and customs of the school.

The Student Government serves as the voice of the students. Each homeroom elects its representatives in late September. These leaders are chosen by their classmates. Besides keeping order within the school, which is its main function, the Student Government also sponsors social activities such as the annual Harvest Hop and the Father-Daughter Dance.

Cecilia Polka, Sodality prefect, invests Florence Lemaire in the office of vice-president of the student government as Joanne Bailey, president, Mary Sayward, secretary, and Ann Deschene, treasurer, look on.

Joanne Bailey presides over the Thursday meeting of Student Council. They organize the activities of the school, maintain discipline and encourage school spirit among the girls.

GLEE CLUB

Preceding the Christmas Cantata, "In the Manger", members of the Glee Club are rehearsing their final song. The chorus is composed of sophomore, junior, and senior members of the club. During the Christmas season, the Glee Club annually presents a musical program which is combined with a dramatic production. Many members of the club also entertain organizations within the community.

The Glee Club, under the direction of Sister Marie Lorraine, R.S.M., is an organization which provides an opportunity for the girls to enjoy themselves as they display their musical talents.

Following a performance of the musical, "Springtime", the accompanists, Barbara McCann, Carol Farias, and Joyce Wilbur pause for one moment to pose for the photographer.

"A Country Girl" is the musical number presented by Eleanor Thurston and chorus. This scene from the operetta "Springtime" is characteristic of the gay theme of the entire presentation.

Seniors, Arlene Braga, Eleanor Thurston, Cecilia Polka, and Helen Murray, practice a new melody as junior, Janice Karcz, accompanies them.

Senior members of the Glee Club hold an informal practice in the auditorium with their accompanist, Janice Karcz. The girls are preparing some new numbers for their next public appearance.

Glee Club officers help in the distribution of the robes which are to be used for a performance. They are: treasurer, Janice Crawford; vice-president, Madeleine Thibault; and president, Eleanor Thurston. Cecilia Polka is secretary of the organization.

ORCHESTRA

Keeping instruments cleaned and oiled is a vital part in the preparation for a concert. Here seniors Donna Larue, Mary McCarthy, and Joan Dermody display the various techniques.

The reed section, consisting of seniors Frances Millotte, Sharon Alosi, Constance Lima, Carol Powers and Kathleen Gleeson, assemble their instruments for a practice session.

Elizabeth Moniz and Mary Forties, senior members of the orchestra, look over the music prior to distributing it to the other members. The group's repertoire includes many selections ranging from classical to contemporary.

The Mount orchestra annually holds a joint concert with St. Xavier's Academy in Providence. Last year, our violin soloists were Diane Martineau, now president of the orchestra, and Joanne Bailey, our concert mistress.

The Mount orchestra is assembled for its weekly Saturday morning rehearsal. Most of the girls have never taken music lessons previous to entering the Academy. For many long hours they are preparing for their annual Spring Concert.

Sheila Sullivan, Judy Perrault, Sharon Silva and Phyllis Desruis-seaux, all seniors, join together in a rhythm practice.

The orchestra is under the experienced direction of Sister Marie Lorraine and Mr. Arthur Paquette who also directs the La Salle Academy Band of Providence, R. I. Last year the orchestra recorded its first album, "Memorable Melodies".

Joanne Bailey, concert mistress; Diane Martineau, Carol Witengier, Dolores Mello and Marilyn Beauregard tune their violins.

Christmas

This is a well known sight indeed to the Mount girls, but slightly snow-bound. It looks as if Mount will have a great deal of shoveling to do, to clear its walks once more.

Two of our Juniors Margaret Ferreira and Nancy McKnight pose with their escorts and parents who served as chaperones for the Junior-Senior Semi-Formal.

It was a night to remember for these Juniors and Seniors at the annual Christmas dance held at Stevenson's.

Dancing gracefully to the music of Buddy Reis' Orchestra are Rosemary Rudyk and her escort, Arnold Ferguson. Rosemary is wearing a lovely black faille dress; black gloves and a vibrant corsage complete the smart ensemble.

It's Christmas time at the Mount. Here the convent entrance with its decoration of blue lights presents a picturesque scene. Our Yule season is a delightful one combining both spiritual and social activities.

At The Mount

"Hail, Mary" is the salutation of the Annunciation here depicted by Mary Ann Sousa and Marlene Shea.

Our Christmas play, "Christmas On The Village Square", focused the traditional story against the background of gypsy peasant life. Here, Mary and Joseph experience difficulty in locating a place of shelter.

Directed by Sister Mary Carmelita, R.S.M., the Debate Club starts out for a tournament. Victory will depend not only upon the girls' thorough knowledge of the problem but also upon their skill in presenting the case.

DEBATE CLUB

For their long hours of preparation, the girls in the Debate Club are rewarded with a keen perceptiveness and close association with current problems. This year's topic: medical care provided by the federal government to all citizens. . . .

Ann Brownell, a junior and president of the Debate Club, presents the negative side of the argument. Tournaments are held at the various schools in the area which are members of the Forensic League.

Elsie Pelton, a sophomore, explains her Science Fair exhibit to Janice Biszko. The hours of work and research put in by Elsie resulted in an award for her project.

The annual school Science Fair held in the spring provides the girls with an opportunity to put scientific theories into practice. Here, Sister Mary Albertus congratulates last year's winners: Noreen Pingley, Margaret Mulyk, Elsie Pelton, and Janice Biszko.

The senior officers of the Vanguard Science Club, Mary Ann Urban, Diane Martineau, Noreen Pingley, Beverley Oliveira, and Jean Claire Fewkes, carefully plan a meeting.

SCIENCE CLUB

Science and its achievements play a major role in the twentieth century. Our Science Club under the direction of Sister Mary Donald and Sister Mary Chabanel attempts to develop the scientific interests of the girls outside of the classroom.

Sister Mary Chabanel discusses different projects for the coming Science Fair with the junior officers of the Science Club, Joy Lacombe, Patricia Selleck, Janice Biszko, and Joyce Forno.

Presiding over the Friday French Club meeting are Monique Demers, Junior Representative, Janice Crawford, Treasurer, and Jane Sullivan, President. Under Sister Mary Adele's supervision they plan the activities of the bi-monthly meetings.

Surrounded by a multitude of pictures are Rachel Raymond, Junior Representative, Cheryl Barrette, President, and Phyllis Desruisseaux, the Thursday French Club officers. They are responsible for the orderly proceedings of the meetings.

LANGUAGE CLUBS

The main purpose of the language clubs is to give a broader knowledge of the culture behind the language. This is done through filmstrips, slides, and singing of Spanish and French songs. The moderators help to give the members a fluency in the language by speaking very little English.

Scrabble anyone? Only one prerequisite—a sufficient knowledge of Spanish. These girls seem to be having no problem but are looking over the situation very carefully. This is just one of the many activities the Spanish Club undertakes under the direction of Sister Mary Denisita.

S P O R T S

Full of pep, our cheerleaders always seem to bolster the team, even when it's behind. Ever striving for the best the girls spend many after-school hours practicing new and different cheers to increase school spirit at the games.

Here the officers of the bowling team take time out for a picture—Karen Jones, Cheryl Grail, and Ann Daigle.

Basketball, volleyball, bowling—take your pick. Here at the Mount sports are an integral part of school life. Our basketball team recently completed its most successful season. Its record—13 wins and 1 loss, Coach Mrs. Mary O'Toole and sports moderator, Sister Mary Julian, train the girls to play a keen game always emphasizing good sportsmanship.

Head, Janice McGrady, and our vivacious squad of cheerleaders line up for a victory cheer. In their snappy red and white uniforms they cheer our team on to success.

During a practice game members of the basketball team oppose each other in order to prepare for a league game the following day. Here they scramble for a rebound.

Here the dramatics group is shown presenting the annual Christmas pageant, along with the Glee Club, singing the traditional Christmas carols.

The sophomores and juniors presented Christmas In The Village Square, a mystery play by Henri Gheon. In this scene, Margaret Potvin, as the gypsy grandfather, narrates the story of the first Christmas. As background for the ancient story, Kathy Rezendes played the accordion. This play, like all our others, was directed by Sister Mary Mercy.

DRAMATICS

One of the groups of Meet Me in Saint Louis assembles here for a family portrait. The play was presented four times, with a double cast for the girls. The male parts were taken by Ronald St. Onge, Joseph Magriby, Michael Wimsett, and Raymond St. Michael.

Shining examples of a play well done . . . beams on the faces of our actresses, Florence Lemaire, Jacqueline Letendre, Cheryl Faris, Joyce Jean, and Rosemary Cullen.

Walking hand in hand in splendor with the man of their dreams, Michael Wimsett, is Maria Rodriques and Maureen Taylor.

Ronald St. Onge and Rosemary Cullen portray the proud parents in the play, Meet Me in Saint Louis. Through Sister Mary Mercy's diligent efforts the play became a great success at Mount.

Four Years toward the making . . .

1964 MERCYCREST

Mr. John Ursprung and Sister Mary Benita check the progress of the 1964 MERCYCREST. The staff is grateful to Sister Mary Jean, Adviser of the Salve Regina yearbook, who recommended Mr. Ursprung to us.

Madeleine Thibault, literary editor, holds the completed yearbook pages. They are now ready to be sent to the William T. Cooke Publishing Co., Inc.

The compiling of our yearbook, the 1964 MERCYCREST, is a major task utilizing the many artistic and literary talents of the entire staff. Actually, the MERCYCREST is written by the Mount itself—its students, faculty and numerous activities. The material gathered between these covers records the memorable experiences of all Mount girls. The staff is grateful to Sister Mary Benita, yearbook moderator, whose guidance and perseverance have enabled this book to be presented.

A general meeting of the MERCIAN staff is under way as the girls plan layouts for the next issue. Moderator, Sister Mary Flora, looks on and offers helpful advice where needed.

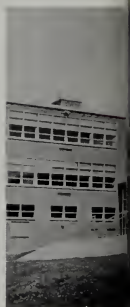

The first MERCIAN issues of 1960-61-62 represent history in the making—Record Frosh Class, New Principal at Mount, Vatican Council II.

Shocked by the sudden death of John Fitzgerald Kennedy, Mount girls express their feelings through poems which appeared in this issue of the MERCIAN.

“Read all about it in the MERCIAN”

Throughout the year the MERCIAN staff has tried to give the student body the news in and around our school. Their policy, as always, was to achieve the best journalistic standards factually, truthfully, and fully. Monthly features, such as style, personalities, and sports were received enthusiastically by the girls. In the “Letters to the Editor” column, students voiced their opinions and suggestions about school activities. In short, the MERCIAN reports all news that is news here at Mount.

Four years of progressing intellectually, spiritually and socially
we graduate, honored to be the first to have spent four years in our new building . . .

As the curtain closes on the panorama we look back over our four years with mingled sentiments . . . gratitude for the many blessings God has given us . . . sorrow at leaving the Mount—its girls, its teachers, its spirit . . . but joy that we have received so excellent a training to prepare us to take our places in a world that needs those who can bring Christ to others.
